Accountancy and Finance Tax Auditing Internship

About our Client

When businesses such as start-ups as well multinational corporations seek for advice, they turn to our client. They are a major global player in their industry and take pride in always keeping sight of their clients' unique needs. Integrity is at the heart of everything they do. The investment they make in building long-term relationships with their clients is a big part of why their clients would recommend them more than any other firm in their industry.

Auditing is about exploring whether their clients' statements about their financial position are true, fair and accurate. They work closely with their finance team and other key stakeholders to really get to know their business and identify any weaknesses – from their financial statements, to their business systems or working culture. They then provide tailored advice on suitable solutions.

What they Need

An undergraduate in their second to last or final year at university. They expect you to gain a 2:2 or above in any degree discipline. You should have 3 A Levels in any subject (or equivalent) (excluding General Studies and Extended Projects) plus GCSEs in Maths and English Language, all at grades A* – C. Equivalent international qualifications are welcome.

Role

For you as an intern, you'll find yourself working side by side with managers, directors and partners. This all means more real experience and bigger responsibilities for you in your earlier career than you might expect. They designed this summer internship to give you an unrivalled opportunity. You will experience unforgettable aspects of life and work at a professional services firm. That's because their collaborative approach means you will get real responsibilities. And it's because they will encourage you to be yourself and explore the difference your personal qualities can make. Your internship will run from beginning of June to late September. During the four months, you'll work on interesting projects alongside graduate trainees and experienced professionals.

Further Reason to join

- > Studying toward an Accounts/ Finance / Business related degree
- > Proficient in Word, Excel and PowerPoint
- > Flexible in your approach to work and able to prioritise work effectively
- > An excellent communicator with the ability to develop strong relationships
- > Able to take ownership and work to tight deadlines, with good time management skills
- > Passionate about working within a pharmaceutical industry
